Bewitchin' Foursome

HALLOWEEN is creeping up on us, as these four participants await the special night anxiously. Boasting all the necessary ingredients but the broom are Margie Ratliff, left, and her sister Susan, right, aged one and a half and three, respectively. They are the daughters of City Policeman Alan Ratliff and his wife Nancy, a student at West Texas State University. Their friend to the left is named Shu-Shu. The six-month-old Manx kitten belongs to Gary and Kathrine Sikes. Sikes is a WT student, and his wife is secretary to the Dean of the University. The jack-o-lantern chose to remain anonymous, but was obviously awaiting the arrival of the Great Pumpkin.

Six-Year GS Building Project Now Complete

BY LINDA LOVE

A new Canyon Girl Scout house has been completed and is in use.

The building, located at 1603 Third Avenue, has been a six-year project of Canyon scout troops and will serve as a meeting place for all Girl Scout troops in the city.

"While it is available to all our groups," said Mrs. Charles Nester, scout council chairman, "it has not been practical for North Randall County residents to come down here for meetings." Mrs. Nester has served as chairman the past six years and has been a scout leader approximately ten years.

The original scout building was sold somewhat more than a year ago to Randall County Sheriff Posse for use as a headquarters and was moved off the land so the project might progress. Construction began during the last part of May.

The new meeting place has three meeting rooms, a kitchen and a bath. Funds for the building were earned through cookie sales by Girl Scouts and Brownies; putting up posters; and distributing circulars for Cooper's Market.

"We tried not to burden the people in Canyon," said Mrs. Nester.

Architectural work for the project was donated by Cliff Abbott, and the driveway was donated and built by Dean Nicholas. "Jack Taylor was generous with his time to listen to us and our problems," Mrs. Nester added.

Winners Announced

Arden Beghtel of 2401 Twelfth Avenue is this week's winner of the football contest. First prize is $10.

Second place cash prize of $5 was won by R. M. Johnson of 1905 Seventh Avenue.

Football contest is held weekly throughout football season.

Merchant Meeting Is Today

A meeting of Canyon Retail Merchants will be held today (Thursday) at 10 a. m. in the American Legion Hall.

Presiding will be Benny Cooper, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants committee.

Plans will be discussed for the annual Christmas Shopping program.

Construction on the building itself was done by Tom Keeling, Randall County Building Company.

Open house will be held some weeks from now, estimated Mrs. Nester, as scout leaders wish the new Brownies to be able to wear their uniforms.

Bonfire And Pep Rally Begin Homecoming

A bonfire and pep rally will kickoff the homecoming festivities for Canyon High School tonight, Thursday.

Bonfire and pep rally will begin at 7:30 p. m. at the east end of the high school football field. Wood for the bonfire will be furnished by the Booster Club and CHS cheerleaders will be in charge of the rally.

Registration for ex-students will be held in the commons area of the school Friday. An assembly will be held at 2 p. m. with the Student Council in charge.

The afternoon assembly will include an organ prelude by Mrs. Margaret Foster with invocation by Lou Cowart. A pledge to the flag will be led by Troy Roach, president of the student council.

Canyon High School Choir will present a musical program under the direction of Gene Murray.

Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools, will make the presentation of awards to the oldest ex-student and the ex-student travelling the farthest to attend homecoming.

Homecoming queen candidates will be presented on the program by Mrs. Royal Brantley, mistress of ceremonies. CHS coaches will be introduced by Troy Roach and the Eagles team will be presented by Coach Jim Greenwood.

Cheerleaders will close the program by leading the group in the school song.

Football game between the Eagles and the Dumas High School Demons will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday evening in Buffalo Bowl.

Immediately preceding the football game will be the coronation ceremony for crowning the CHS Homecoming queen. Troy Roach, president of the student body, will crown the queen from a list of contestants including Renee Owen, Sally Swartzell and Charlotte Clark.

The queen contestants are all seniors at Canyon High School. Miss Owen is the daughter of

The new members must attend four troop meetings before they may don their uniforms, she explained, and this most recent group will constitute the first troop to go all the way through the ranks in the new building.

Voter Decisions Tuesday On Proposed Amendments

Proposals 1, 4 Top Ballot Attractions

Randall County and Texas voters Tuesday will ballot on 10 proposed constitutional amendments.

Polls will open in the Amarillo portion of Randall County at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning and at 8 o'clock in the remainder of the county. Polls all over the county will close at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Because of its possible effect on West Texas State University, Amendment 1 probably is of paramount importance to Canyon voters.

New Bank Hearing Set Today

Hearing on a charter application for West Texas State Bank of Canyon will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday) before the state banking commission in Austin.

If granted David Levens will be the new bank's president. Physicians say Levens underwent surgery this week and will be unable to attend the meeting.

The chartered buses made the trip to Austin Wednesday carrying the group seeking the charter.

The proposed new bank is capitalized at $500,000.

(See NEW, Page 7)

This proposed amendment would increase the state ad valorem tax 5 cents for state college and university buildings.

In 1947 an amendment set aside a portion of the state ad valorem tax for college building fund for 17 senior colleges and universities (authorizing five additional colleges to participate in the fund). Physical plant construction for the University of Texas and A&M University and branches is financed through the available university funds as provided by the Texas constitution. Those schools, therefore, are not included in the 17 participating in the college building fund.

Amendment 1 also provides for changing the method of allocation from an historical basis (based on average enrollment for the preceding five

(See PROPOSALS, Page 7)

Time Change

All district football games for the remainder of the season will begin at 7:30 p. m., announced Hobart McDonald, Canyon High School principal.

This includes the Friday game against Dumas, to be played here.

SCD Asked To Move By Jan. 1

Randall County Commissioners court has requested office space now occupied by the Soil Conservation District be made available for county use by Jan. 1.

The SCD offices are on the third floor of the Randall County court house adjacent offices of the District clerk. District Clerk Mavis Hill has requested use of the SCD offices as soon as they become available.

Commissioner Glenn Dowlen said one office building in Canyon is available for purchase by the county. Another has been made available on a rental basis.

None of the commissioners appeared to favor these offers as a means of solving the county's space problems. Commissioner Clarence Beckman has openly advocated the building of another court house annex.

Bunting Due Out Today

Canyon Homecoming Committee has requested that city merchants put out their bunting by today (Thursday) for Canyon High School Homecoming celebration.

Homecoming Day is to be celebrated throughout the day Friday and will be kicked off with a bonfire and pep rally tonight.

Dr. Bright Is Honored By WT Band

Dr. Houston Bright, now observing his Twenty-Fifth Anniversary as composer-in-residence at West Texas State University, was honored by WT marching band Saturday during Homecoming halftime ceremonies.

Terry Milligan, drum major, presented Bright with a plaque in appreciation of his fifteen years' service as the band's announcer during halftime performances.

Bright serves also as director of choral activities and professor of theory and composition at the university. His Silver Anniversary will be recognized in various ways this year, including a series of concerts of his works, to be presented in the coming spring.

Most recently published compositions include a Christmas motet scored for a double chorus, "Today Is Born the King of Heaven." It was premiered last spring at the Convention of the Southwestern Division of Music Educators National Conference in Oklahoma City by Pampa High School Choir.

Second recent work is "Jabberwocky," a setting of Lewis Carroll's popular nonsense poem. It is scored for mixed chorus, to be backed by a brass and percussion ensemble numbering eleven instruments.

Both will be in the repertoire of University Chorale and WTSU Brass and Percussion Company in their Annual Fall Tour. The tour will be conducted November 29-December 3 throughout the Panhandle and Tri-State region and will include concert appearances in Wichita Falls, San Angelo, Clovis, New Mexico, and Liberal, Kansas.

A concert at WT will be held December 5, following return of the Chorale and instrumental company.

(See DR. BRIGHT, Page 7)

WT Exes Return To Eventful Day

Approximately 3,000 persons attended the Oldtime Barbecue Saturday on campus of West Texas State University, during celebration of annual Homecoming Day.

Visitors, students and Canyon residents flooded the WT campus for a day of reunions, parade, barbecue, football and dances.

Silver anniversary was celebrated by class of 1940.

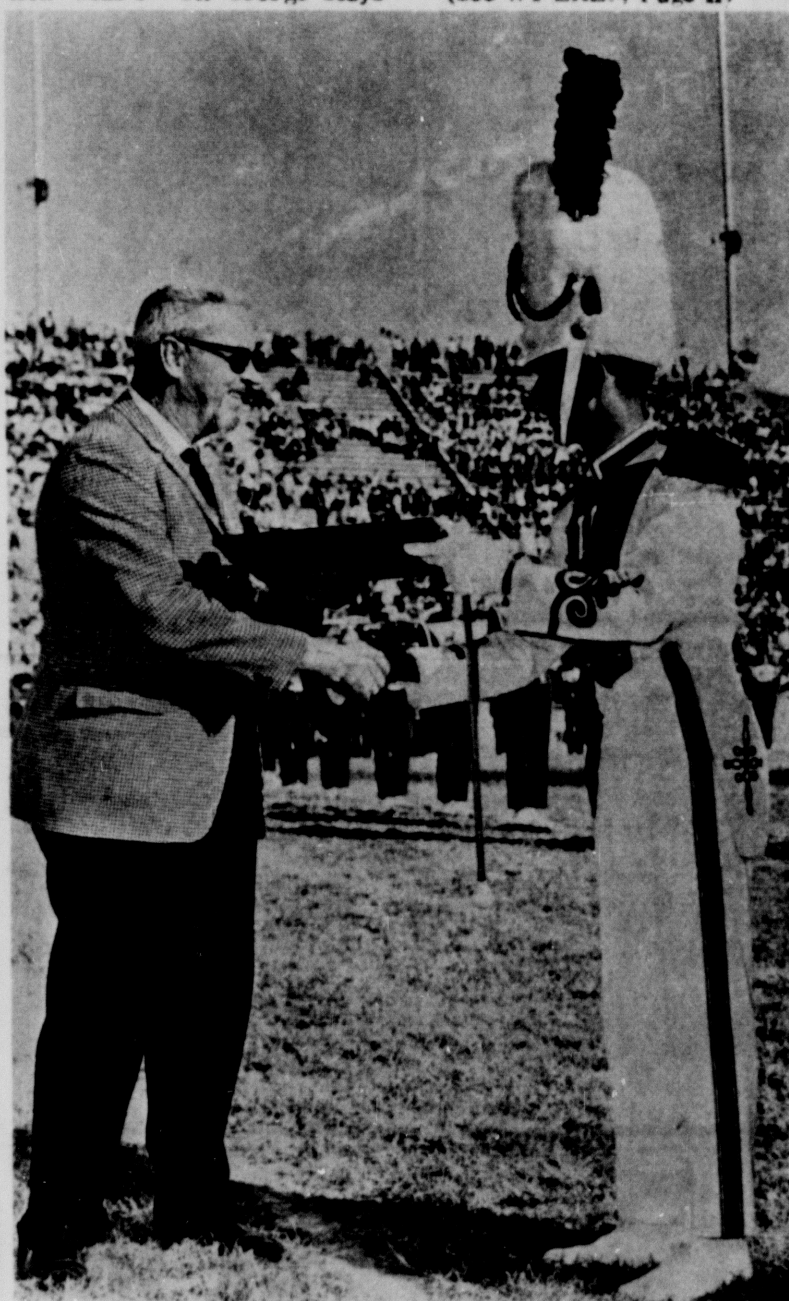

Parade included fifteen floats depicting various fairy tales, thirteen marching bands and the Sam Houston ROTC drill team of WT. Winner of best float decoration was Industrial Education Club's "St. George Slays the Dragon," which boasted thirty moving parts; second place went to Phi Delta Theta for its "Alice in Wonderland," while Buffalo Masquers won third place with "Cinderella."

Awards were also given to Stafford Hall for its dormitory decoration of "Pogo", and to Methodist Student Center for "Humpty Dumpty."

The WT-New Mexico State football game, which ended in a 10-2 Aggie victory, was highlighted by musical entertainment by WT Marching Band and bands of Spearman and Tulsa.

SPECIAL FEATURE of halftime exercises at Saturday's Homecoming football game was presentation of a plaque to Dr. Houston Bright, celebrating this year his twenty-fifth anniversary as composer-in-residence at West Texas State University and director of choral activities. During the past 15 years Dr. Bright has been the band's announcer during halftime performances, and presenting the plaque in appreciation of this service is Drum Major Terry Milligan.

WT Top Teacher Award Announced At Dinner

A $1,000 faculty excellence award for an outstanding member of the West Texas State University faculty was announced Friday night of last week at a Phoenix Club banquet on the WT campus.

The award is being offered by the WTEx-Students Association and was announced by Frank Barrett, Hereford, president of that group.

The $1,000 award will be presented to the member of the WT faculty who, in the opinion of students and fellow faculty members, does the best job in instructional teaching during the current academic year.

The award will be based on the recipient's excellence in teaching as defined by outstanding achievement and inspiration to students, coupled with a demonstrated desire to upgrade and improve West Texas State as an educational institution.

Winner of the first award will be announced at the 1966 Phoenix Club Dinner.

Flags For Freedom To Fly Next Week

"Flags For Freedom Week" has been proclaimed for November 1-6 in Canyon and will be observed by the Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Project for the week will be the display of the United States Flag on the streets of Canyon. Jaycees will distribute the flags Monday.

Throughout the week the flag will be cared for by local merchants. Jaycees will pick up the flags late Saturday, November 6.

Meade Michael, Jaycee president, endorses the Texas Jaycee project adopted at a recent board meeting in McAllen.

"Jaycees have always stepped forward in the defense of freedom because we believe that oppression and wars against free men anywhere constitute a threat to the life and liberty of free men everywhere," said Michael.

"We believe that to protect our own rights, we must always fight for the rights of others. Especially when they ask for our help because no man can be completely free as long as another is enslaved," stated the Jaycee president.

Boy Scout Campaign Continues

Solicitation in a Boy Scout fund raising drive was entering the home stretch this week, according to Gene McGlasson, campaign chairman.

McGlasson said the drive should be completed and a report ready for publication by next week.

The drive got under way a week ago Monday.

YING FOR the crown of Homecoming Queen of Canyon High School are left to right, Charlotte Clark, Sally Swartzell and Renee Owen. The queen will be crowned in pre-game ceremonies at Buffalo Bowl Friday evening at 7 p. m. immediately before the Eagles meet the Dumas Demons in the homecoming football game.

CANYON RIM

Amendments 1 and 4 are the two most publicized of the 10 proposed amendments being submitted to voters next Tuesday.

I probably will vote for amendment 1, simply because we must provide money for plant facilities for institutions of higher learning.

I don't like some parts of it, however. I don't like the pre-supposition that federal aid is an absolute necessity for providing facilities we need.

I am particularly disenchanted with one point in the sales pitch of those promoting the amendment.

A gathering I attended recently was told that a recent tax study indicates the 5 cent hike in ad valorem tax proposed under Amendment 1 would bring no tax increase to the person owning a $15,000 home and that the tax increase for the owner of a $20,000 home would be only 31 cents.

This sales pitch makes Amendment 1 sound like another "soak the rich" gimmick.

I am against ad valorem tax on principal. It is an unfair tax at best and the worst part about it is that it is levied inequitably from county to county.

A sales tax would raise needed state money in a fairer manner. Even a state income tax is more just than the ad valorem tax.

I point out these objections for the record. I will vote for the amendment in spite of this because money must be provided for facilities for our state colleges and universities.

I find myself lined up with some of the most liberal editors in the state in my feelings on Amendment 4 which would change the terms of various elected state officials, including the governor, to four years.

I could go for the amendment if it contained a succession clause. It does not. Under this provision a governor could expect to serve at least eight years.

Before his second term would expire he would have appointed every member of every executive appointive position in the state. Terms of various state boards are staggered just to keep all their members at any one time from owing their appointments to the incumbent governor.

If the state house of representatives members continue to be elected for two year terms, in election years when his own office were not up for grabs a strong governor with a good machine behind him could so influence the election of legislators as to virtually put the state's lower house into his pocket.

Texas politics are bad enough without making them worse with Amendment 4. I'll vote against Number 4 next Tuesday.

Amendment 10, which would increase the terms of state representatives from 2 to 4 years, shouldn't even be on the ballot. It is sublimely ridiculous.

The demonstrators protesting our being in Vietnam either do not understand or are in sympathy with this nation's enemies.

I could understand a protest of the dilatory manner in which the Viet Nam campaign is being conducted. It has all the earmarks of stretching into another Korean nightmare.

But be there we must if we intend to salvage Southeast Asia from Red China. If we lose in Viet Nam we can expect Red hordes to engulf India, Australia, Japan and the Philippines in due time.

To the college student contemplating demonstration against our being in Viet Nam, I would say: "Where would your ivory towers be were they not protected by force of arms? Read history. In the last 5,000 years many civilizations have flourished but the barbarian, as today, always lurked on the fringes and always pounced when those civilizations became too fat and too decadent to defend themselves.

Besides this, you are flirting with treason."

Open House Saturday In Umbarger

Umbarger Farm Supply will hold an open house at the firm in Umbarger all day Saturday, October 30.

The event will mark the formal opening of the firm's new business home just west of Umbarger. Throughout the day, free door prizes will be given and coffee and rolls will be served to visitors.

"All our customers and friends are invited to attend," said Roscoe Richardson, owner and manager of the firm.

Other personnel assisting with host duties will be delivery men, Roy Messenger, Don Tice and Jake Keeling; fertilizer salesman, Vincent Ehly; and bookkeepers, Dianne Brock and Harold Irbeck.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Farmer recently was her brother, L. E. Teakell, and family of Clovis, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow, Mrs. Terry Petty and sons of Midland visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Furlow in Tulsa.

Also visiting the T. S. Furlows was their daughter's family, the Aubrey Holdens, of Mobile, Alabama.

Cultural-Entertainment Features Needed Here

BY LINDA LOVE

Texas needs more cultural-entertainment attractions and needs to talk about them more, according to Joe Beldon Associates.

Beldon spoke last week on "Texas as a Vacationland--What Research Finds" at the Governor's Conference on Tourism. During the conference Pioneer Amphitheatre of Palo Duro Canyon State Park was mentioned numerous times as an exemplary project.

Mrs. Ples Harper, president of Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, attended the conference in Austin.

In reporting on the findings of a nationwide Gallup Poll survey on tourism made for his association, Beldon said that 71 per cent of travelers on vacation are looking for cultural activities. Only 56 per cent believe, however, that entertainment may be found in Texas.

According to the report, more than 90 per cent of those interviewed could not mention any specific thing to see in Texas except the Alamo. Among Texans, only eight attractions in the whole state were mentioned by more than 9 per cent of those questioned.

During the conference the Canyon theatre was cited nine times as an example of the kind of historical and regional project which needs to be developed throughout the State of Texas in order to make Texas recognized as a tourist center throughout the land.

Additional reason for emphasis on entertainment and culture was found in the "Texas Visitor Industry" report which was distributed to the conference.

This stresses the fact that the number of tourists entering Texas has increased from eight million in 1961 to almost twelve million in 1964. Don Apperson, speaking for the Texas Tourist Council, reported that $500,000 spent for out-of-state advertising of Texas is largely responsible for this increase.

Apperson stated that since this advertising has been legally possible in Texas and has been used, $53,400,000 has come into the state from out-of-state in taxes alone, without consideration of any added income the visitors bring.

However, it was also emphasized that while number of visitors continued to increase from 1963 to 1964, they did not stay quite as long in 1964 as in the previous year, and the total dollars spent dropped by some 7.5 million.

Some of the reasons given for this drop were scarcity of projects scattered through the state to delay tourists, and the ignorance of Texans about attractions which are here.

"Thundering Sounds of the West" was described as the kind of attraction which can be effective in correcting this drop.

Tom Taylor, head of Tourist Division of Texas Highway Department, gave the statistics concerning money spent by tourists in Texas. Airline visitors are said to spend $17.50 a day, while people arriving by other means average $7.97 apiece.

Total amount spent was $658,-000,000 in 1964. This compares with $2 billion which a similar number of tourists spent in Florida.

Tourist dollar in Texas is spent for the following things in percentages indicated: 30 cents, automobile; 27 cents, food and 24 cents lodging; 9 cents, clothing; 4 cents souvenirs and 3 cents entertainment; one cent for drugs, and two cents for other items.

Allen Given Player Award

It's always a difficult task to give a Most Valuable Player Award for a victory but that is easy compared to the job of giving one after a loss.

Logically, the award this week should go to a member of the defensive team of the Buffs which played such a tremendous game against the Aggies of New Mexico State University last Saturday. The Aggies came out on the long end of the 10-2 score but the defensive unit of the Herd shone through the dreariness of the homecoming loss.

A big part in the impressive demonstration of defense by the Herd was giant tackle Marc Allen who spearheaded the rushing defense and pass rush on the Aggie quarterbacks. As a result of Allen's showing in the game, he was selected MVP for this week and he will be added to the names on the MVP trophy instituted by the Touchdown Club earlier this season.

Allen was in on numerous defensive gems in the NMSU fracas and provided a big part in the most exciting goal line stand in Buffalo Bowl this season. The 6-3, 235-pound tackle from San Antonio, Texas, along with the other members of the heralded "Unfriendly Society" fought off an Aggie touchdown bid from the one foot line for three downs. The Aggies lost six yards on three rushes and were forced to go for a field goal.

Allen was All-District at Jefferson High School in San Antonio in 1962 and won a pair of letters at the school. The son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Raymond Allen, Marc was born in Fort Sill, Oklahoma in 1944. Allen's father is a retired winner of a Bronze Star and was also the captain of the old professional basketball team in Boston.

Allen and the whole Buffalo team, for that matter, face their biggest challenge of the season when they battle the bruising Tigers of Memphis State this Saturday in Memphis. Lewis Jones, 6-1, 245-pound sophomore guard will play opposite Allen, a junior of comparable size. This personal dual could be just as exciting as the game probably will be in the new Memphis Memorial Stadium.

No longer one of the nation's unbeaten eleven in college football, the Herd still owns a good 5-1 record and Marc Allen has played a very important part in the Buffs surprise showing in 1965.

Band Parents Club Eagle Will Meet Tuesday Defeats Phillips

All band parents have been urged to attend a planning session of Canyon Band Parents Club at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in high school cafeteria.

Purpose of the meeting is to lay concrete plans for launching the drive for the community birthday calendar, according to Mrs. Roland Johnson, secretary.

Featured entertainment of the evening will be the high school twirlers and sixth grade band.

Calendar includes meetings and social functions of all community organizations, with all special school, church and local events noted on the appropriate dates.

"This 'Community Band Calendar will make a friendly community more friendly," said Mrs. Johnson. "It's going to be better than ever. Know what's happening before it happens -- school dates, meetings, birthdays, anniversaries and so on."

"Join your fellow members in cordial friendship. Be remembered on your important dates; and congratulate your friends on theirs. When one of our band parents knocks on your door, be prepared to add your name to the Canyon Eagle Band Community Birthday Calendar."

For $1 a single person may have his birthday printed on the calendar and will receive one of the books. A married couple, without family, may include both birthdays and the anniversary for $1.50 while an entire family may have their birthdays, anniversaries and other important dates on the calendar. All purchasers will receive a book. Extra calendars for servicemen or other friends and relatives out of town will cost an additional 50 cents.

Proceeds from sale of the Community Birthday Calendar will be placed in the Canyon School Bands Fund, said Mrs. Johnson.

District Camporee Meet Planned

District Camporee for scout troops of the Randall District will be held at Camp Don Harrington, November 5-6.

Some 18 patrols are expected to attend the camporee which will start Friday evening, November 5, with registration of troops and setting up the camp. A campfire program will also be held Friday evening.

Saturday morning scouts will compete by patrols on the scout skills and several fun events according to Chuck Allen, district camping and activities chairman.

Contests will include first aid, scout oath and law, a stretcher race in which a victim is given first aid for a broken arm, leg and sprained ankle and the scouts will make their own stretcher and move the victim some 25 feet while balancing a basketball on the victim's chest. The stretcher race is limited to five minutes.

Another fun contest is the pancake flip where a patrol builds a fire and cooks a pancake. The pancake is then flipped over a seven foot wire and caught in a limited amount of time.

The chariot race contest tests the scouts skill in erecting a platform from sheer and diagonal lashings. The platform is then used to transport a patrol member around the course.

During the camporee, two campsite inspections will be held with patrols being graded on their campsite appearance, menus, cooking ability, and patrol organization.

Patrol scores will determine the rating of the troop. Troops averaging between 85 and 100 points will receive the Camporee Award of honor and merit while troops between 70 and 85 points will receive the Camporee Award of merit. Troops averaging below 70 points will receive the Camporee ribbon.

Judges for the camporee will meet on Thursday afternoon, November 4, to check plans for the Camporee and scoring system with Chuck Allen, district camping and activities chairman.

Aggies Halt Buffalo Winning Streak 10-2

BY ART ALBRACHT
New Mexico State University knocked the Buffaloes from the unbeaten ranks last Saturday when the Aggies upset the West Texas State University Herd 10-2, in a bitterly fought defensive battle.

Texas no longer has an unbeaten major college as the Buffs were the last to bite the dust. WTSU was in the thick of the battle down to the last minute and 30 seconds, when the Aggies Tom Feezel picked off a pass by Spencer "Hank" Washington returning it 50 yards for a touchdown. At the time the score was 3-2 in NMSU's favor and the Buffs were attempting to mount a last minute scoring drive.

The Buff defense turned in another tremendous job and actually gave up only a field goal, as the other points were scored on the pass interception against the WTSU offense. NMSU, with its "Ugly Four" also played an unbelievable defensive game and allowed the Herd only 122 yards of total offense.

WTSU was given several opportunities to score but the offense failed to get the ball in for the score and twice Ronnie Mankin missed field goals by only inches.

A golden opportunity for a Buff tally came in the late stages of the third quarter when the Herd recovered an Aggie fumble at the NMSU 15 yard line. The Buffs moved to a first down at the four but from that point the Aggie defense stiffened.

Washington sent Mankin up the middle for no gain, then was thrown for losses of seven and one yard, respectively, on two pass attempts. On fourth and 11, Mankin attempted a field goal which went just off to the side of the goal posts.

From start to finish, the battle was purely defensive. The NMSU defense scored six of its 10 points and the only points the Buffs could gather were on a safety. A safety occurred when the Aggie center fired the ball past the NMSU punter and out of the end zone. WTSU then received a kick from the Aggies which Mankin downed at the WTSU 48.

In the early stages, the Herd had the Aggies on the run but couldn't capitalize on the NMSU miscues. After taking the free kick all the Herd could get was two yards before Washington dropped back to pass. Abelardo Alba, who played a great game against the pass for the Aggies, went high in the air to grab an aerial headed for one of the Herd receivers. Alba got the ball at the Aggie 11 but could not return it because he was immediately hit.

NMSU then moved the pigskin to the 50 yard stripe but were forced to punt. A roughing the kicker penalty, however, gave the Aggies a first down at the WTSU 35. Quarterback Sal Olivias staying primarily on the ground, moved his team to the Buff 18. Halfback Jim Bohl, who chalked up 64 yards in 14 carries in the fracas, picked up a big part of the Aggie yardage on a 17 yard smash off tackle. On third and eight at the 18, Olivias tried a pass which cornerman Steve Oakley of WTSU swiped to kill the Aggie drive at the Buff 10.

Playing conservative football, the Herd tried two rushes at the NMSU "Ugly Four" and then went into punt formation. Steve Haterius, who booted seven times for an average of 42.9 yards in the battle, got off a tremendous punt which carried 65 yards to the Aggie 18. NMSU could do little with the ball and punted right back to the Herd at the WTSU 45.

Despite the excellent field position, the Buffs sputtering offense could do nothing with the pigskin. Haterius with his usual high punt hung the ball and the Aggies could return it only two yards from the NMSU 10 to the 12. On a second and eight, the Aggie quarterback, Olivias, went for the long bomb but Haterius intercepted at the Aggie 40 yard stripe. A clipping penalty, and losses of 10 and 12 by Washington, resulted in a 45 yard play needed to give the Buffs a first down.

NMSU was called for clipping on a return of a punt. From the Aggie 33, NMSU couldn't move against the rugged Herd defense led by Butch Walterscheid, Dave Gasser, and Marc Allen. In the middle of the second quarter, Haterius buried the Aggies deep in their own territory with another fine punt.

Neither team mounted a sustained drive the remainder of the second quarter, except for a march by the Herd which died at the Aggie 31. The Buffs had actually moved as near as the NMSU 17 but Washington was thrown for big losses by Al Gonzales of the Aggies. Defensive tackle Jimmy Campbell later blocked a 19-yard Aggie field goal attempt.

In the third quarter, the defensive units really dominated the action. Donald Dennis returned the second half kickoff 23 yards from the end zone. WTSU mounted a long drive which carried to the Aggie 29 where Feezel picked off a Washington aerial shot to kill the bid. Bohl got the Aggies a first down at their 11.

Olivias then hit Fred Smith with a 16 yard pass for another first down. At the WTSU 48, Olivias dropped back to pass but Walterscheid had other plans for the good signal caller. Butch made the ground shake with a body crunching tackle which all but demolished the Aggie quarterback. Olivias never played again in the fracas, as reserve quarterback Art Garcia replaced the injured Aggie.

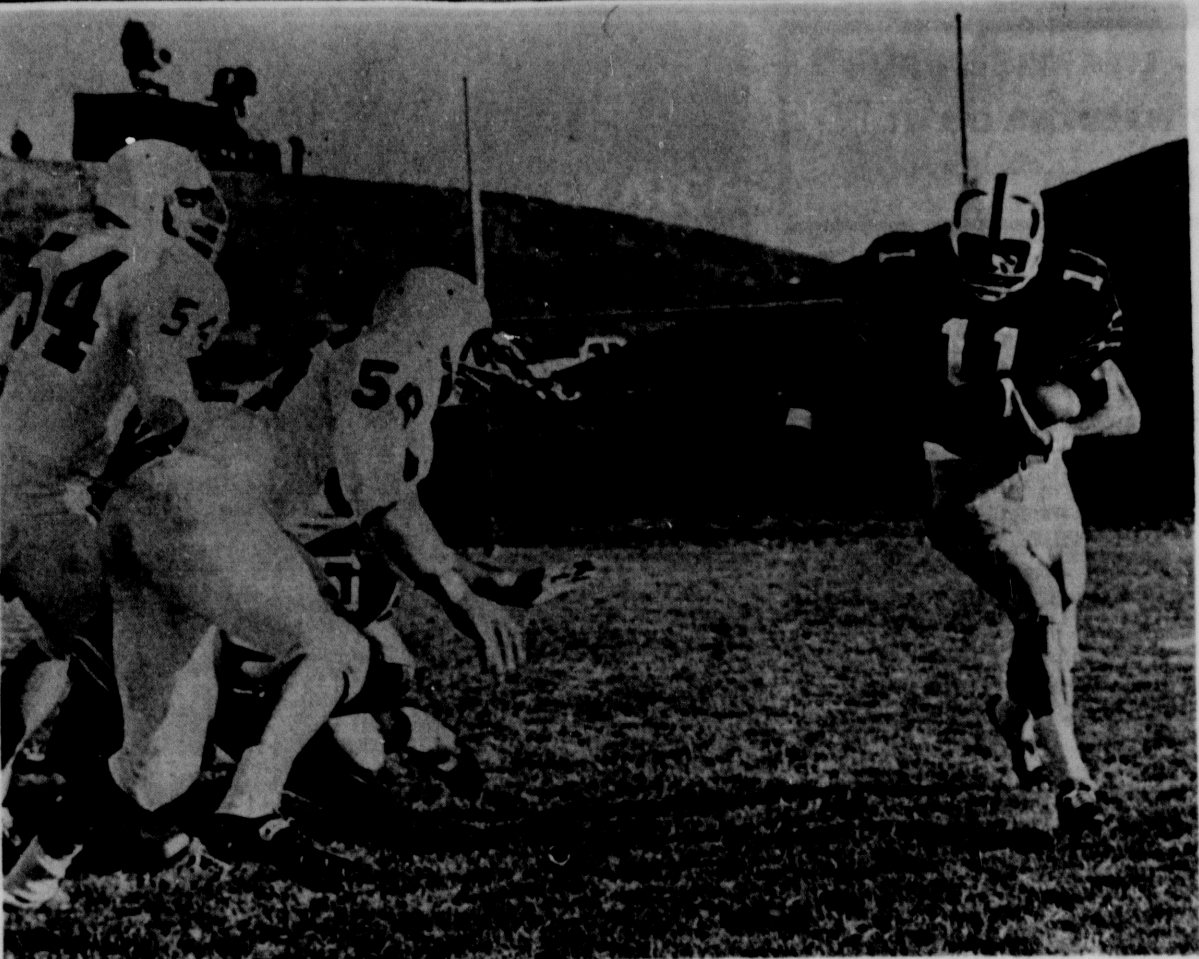

Again the Herd had good field position but Dennis fumbled on the first play after gaining ten yards. The Aggies covered the ball to wreck the Herd offensive threat at the NMSU 33.

Quickly, the NMSU offensive moved for a pair of rushing first downs and held a first down at the WTSU 42. From that point, Garcia proved his ability by hitting sensational receiver Hartwell Menfee who was pushed out of bounds by Haterius at the one foot line.

The Unfriendly Society then proved it was just that and more, by holding the Aggies on three straight rushes. WTSU pushed the Aggies for a loss of six yards and forced the NMSU team to go for a field goal. Gonzales booted a 23-yard field goal on the button, to put the Aggies in front 3-2.

NMSU kicked off to the Herd but the Buffs failed to get a first down after going to work at its 42. Haterius got off a punt which Mike Carroll fumbled after being belted by Phil Hampton of the Buffs. Wally Johnson smothered the fumble at the NMSU 15.

WTSU got a first down but then the Aggie defense demonstrated its ability at the goal line stand by holding the Herd from scoring. Mankin finally tried to get a field goal but it barely missed as the 17,700 Homecoming fans tried in vain to see the ball through the uprights. Luck wasn't on the Herd on this particular sunny day in Buffalo Bowl and the Buffs missed a great opportunity.

Ronnie Mankin (11), Buff back, carries as a host of New Mexico Aggies converge upon him Saturday afternoon. The Buffs suffered their first defeat of the year 10-2 before a homecoming crowd.

In the final quarter, the Buffs again moved deep enough to try for a field goal but this time a Mankin attempt from the 34 sailed under the crossbar as the tension mounted.

A balanced Aggie drive led by quarterback Garcia moved the NMSU team into field goal position at the WTSU 23 yard line. An attempt by Gonzales went far to the side, as the Aggie lead remained at 3-2.

The Buffs moved for a first down after the ball was brought out to the 20. On fourth and three at the WTSU 39 with 2:30 left in the game, the Herd elected to punt and play for the break. It almost came when Garcia fumbled but recovered his own miscue. WTSU preserved the time left on the clock with three time outs while the defense held the Aggies to only four yards in three rushes.

Bill Stirman punted to Haterius who covered the ball at the WTSU 43. Washington attempted to move the Buffs for the game saving score but Feezel completely demolished all Buffalo hopes by snatching Hank's aerial and going 50 yards for the back-breaking touchdown. Gonzales added the extra point giving the Aggies a 10-2 lead, as the NMSU Aggies had broken the Buffs' win streak and wrecked the Herd plans for a possible unbeaten season.

Washington managed to complete 12 of 29 aerials for 99 yards while Ted Wheeler caught five of Hank's passes for 36 yards. Wheeler now needs only one catch in upcoming games to break the WTSU pass receiving record for catches set by Bill Cross in 1950 with 23 grabs. WTSU got 122 yards of total offense while the Aggies got 307 yards with 119 of that coming on the ground. Top receiver for the Aggies in the game was Menfee, who caught four passes for 66 yards.

To be eligible for nomination a faculty member must be involved in a minimum of six hours of classroom instruction, thus giving those who are engaged in split duties of teaching and research a chance to be nominated.

Nominations for the alumni-sponsored award may be made by any department head, any group of 25 students, or by any group of five faculty members.

Selections of the award recipient will be made by the board of directors of the West Texas Ex-Students, Inc.

All nominations will remain confidential.

Barrett reviewed the accomplishments of the Phoenix Club since it was formed in the fall of 1963. Among other things, the alumni group has awarded 32 scholarships to entering freshmen, promoted the band forensics and in general has promoted academic excellence.

The Phoenix Club is playing a key role in promoting development of the institution.

Alumni attending the dinner were entertained by a variety act by Shearen Elebash of Selma, Ala.

Presiding over the banquet meeting was Barrett. Introductions were by Wayne Thomas, Hereford attorney and vice-president of the group.

Welcome was by Dr. James P. Cornette, WT president. Invocation was by Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus, WTSU.

years) to a projected basis (based on projected enrollment for the next 12 years). The projected enrollment increases would be determined by the new Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. In addition to 84 percent of the funds being allocated on projected enrollment, approximately 16 percent would be allocated on the basis of additional square feet need in facilities.

The amendment makes college building funds available two years earlier than the 1947 amendment would permit and it would enable colleges to obtain matching funds from the Higher Education Facilities Act. The additional 5 cents for the college building fund would increase the state ad valorem tax to 47 cents on the $100 valuation.

Amendment Number 2 would increase the Veterans Land Fund by $200 million for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to Texas veterans who served in the armed forces between Sept. 16, 1940 and March 31, 1955. The veterans land program will cease Dec. 1, 1965 under present constitutional provisions if this amendment is not passed.

Amendment Number 3 would enable Texas to continue to cooperate with the US government in providing assistance and medical care for needy aged, blind, children and needy totally and permanently disabled. Matching funds not to exceed $60,000,000 annually are provided for assistance payments and supplementary medical care.

Amendment Number 4 would provide 4 year terms for the office of the governor, Lt. governor, comptroller of public accounts, treasurer, commissioner of the general land office, secretary of state and certain statutory state officers.

Amendment Number five would create an agency of the State of Texas as the "Teacher Retirement System of Texas," vesting the administration of and responsibility for its operation in a "State Board of Trustees of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas," and provide investment authority for the board, subject to certain restrictions.

Amendment Number 6 would authorize the issuing of not more than $85,000,000 of general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in order to provide money for loans to students at participating institutions of higher education in the state.

Amendment Number 7 would provide tax exemptions to certain hospitals giving free hospital and medical care to indigent citizens of Texas. Property belonging to hospitals meeting the qualifications set forth in the proposed amendment would be exempt from ad valorem taxes levied by any taxing entity except the state itself.

Amendment Number 8 would provide for the automatic retirement of district and appellate judges for old age; for their removal from office for misconduct; for their forced retirement for disability; and it would establish a Judicial Qualifications Commission to administer some of its provisions. It does not repeal existing laws.

Amendment Number 9 would permit the legislature to set an annual salary for the Lt. governor and the speaker of the House of Representatives. The amount of the salaries is not specified. The amendment would also increase to $20 per day the per diem allowance paid to senators and representatives while the legislature is in session.

Amendment Number 10 would increase terms of members of the Texas House of Representatives from 2 to 4 years. Members would be divided into two classes so that one half would be elected every 2 years. This is the same procedure now used in the Texas Senate.

Voting machines will be used in larger precincts and paper ballots will be used in smaller ones. Absentee voting deadline is 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Polling places by precinct include 1. Rex Reeves Elementary School; 2. Jowell School; 3. Ralph Switch Elevator; 4. Fairview Community; 5. James I. Fletcher home; 6. Scotty Golf; 7. ### SUB-Topics TALENT SHOWS will be presented during Fun Day festivities by both faculty and students, with a special skit planned by Student Union Board members. All interested in appearing in the show may sign up in Student Association Office. A ticket of $1 will admit a student or faculty member to the Fun Day, with cutting classes made legal if 2,000 tickets are sold.

Profit goes to the fund for construction of a University entranceway. If the special day is a success, it will become an annual event, with proceeds donated each year to a campus project.

Activities include various contests and a sock hop, with music by "The Tiaras."

MARTHA WOODWARD, freshman senator from Amarillo, sold 127 Fun Day tickets almost immediately, to spur the drive for free cuts.

PE Majors Sponsor Gym Performance

"Flying Rangers" gymnastics group of Perryton was presented in a special program last week by Women's Physical Education Majors Club.

The performance began at 5:45 p.m. in the Women's Gym, and was followed by a period of free participation in which all interested could try various routines.

Highlight of the appearance was the unique "Black Light" feature, said to be the only such event performed in the United States. During this act all house lights are turned out and a special black light is reflected from the costumes of the performers.

Flying Rangers are an organization of Perryton high school and junior high girls interested in gymnastics, according to Polly McLain, Spearman senior and president of the sponsoring club.

The guest group presented a clinic, giving demonstrations of exercises and routines of various types, including tumbling and pillow bars.

Erin Wertenberger is set-designer for the ALTA production.

NANCY NIXON, Dalhart sophomore, is Circle K Sweetheart. She is an elementary education major, member of Mu Phi Epsilon, and plays saxophone with the WT Band. As club sweetheart she attends all meetings and serves as hostess for all social functions. First official appearance was in Homecoming Parade Saturday.

T.J. Leonard Reads Paper

T. J. Leonard, associate professor of government at West Texas State University, delivered a paper as part of a panel on "Federalism in India" last weekend at the Midwest-Rocky Mountain Conference on Asian Affairs at the University of Colorado.

Participants from Asian studies departments of colleges and universities throughout the nation met for the session, which featured discussions on politics, religion, art and philosophy of Asia.

Leonard addressed the group on "Innovations in Indian Federalism," discussing the federal system of India, with its changes and its newer facets.

Appearing at the session were five students from Saigon, sponsored by Youth Council of America.

"They understood the issues very well," commented Leonard, "and spoke of two problems they have in Saigon in particular. One is the Chinese who have been there some time. They are more ambitious and succeed to a greater degree than do the natives, yet they retain a strong feeling of loyalty toward their homeland, which can make Communist infiltration much easier."

"The second problem is their fear that due to the conflict in Saigon itself the city will take on a bad image in the eyes of the world."

The students told the professors, "We're a country, not a war; we're a people, not a pawn on the international playing board."

One speaker before the group was Wesley Fishel of Michigan State, a principal supporter of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy. Fishel is also director of "American Friends of Viet Nam" publication, sponsored by a group of Americans which includes Henry Cabot Lodge.

MISS SHIRLEY OLES, Homecoming Queen, 1965, is a Claude junior and member of Zeta Tau Alpha. Her escort Saturday was Charlie Alford, Amarillo freshman, Phi Delta Theta.

Fun 'n' Folk

BY LINDA LOVE

I haven't received any more readers' letters, but I did have a comment from one avid reader on my feelings in the Lief Erickson vs. Christopher Columbus affair -- that is, from my father.

Daddy agreed there weren't many Vikings on the Top 40 or in public office; but he asked, how many have been deported?

Noticed Sammy Davis is going to have a series, though it's an on-again, off-again type of thing. What with Dean Martin, Bob Hope... all those big names every week, that makes quite a slate.

"Leader" Frank Sinatra is joining them, but in one big stab at it. He's going to have a -- completely -- one-man show sometime in the near future. Sounds like quite a production: he'll go from one of his hits to the next, without so much as a word of commentary or introduction. It'll be wall-to-wall song.

Time's almost up for the Kids, Inc., league games, and it's almost a shame to see it go so quickly. Those kids really put in the effort, and the coaches do a fine job trying to teach them the fundamentals of sportsmanship along with athletic discipline. Now if only we had courses for some of the more "adult" fans!

New Christy Minstrels have made plans to tour Viet Nam for the USO during Christmas holidays. Hope ex-member Barry McGuire doesn't hear about it. Wouldn't he be ashamed of them, as he does his bit in London, singing that paragon of musical composition, "Eve of Destruction"? Then again, maybe some of the fellas in Viet Nam would just as soon no one heard about (ex-) friend Barry.

Sure was a shame our Buffaloes had to get tripped up. But it happens to the best of us.

Reminds me of the time a couple of years ago when OU had stubbed its toe on our favorite alum and his Longhorns. Two weeks later Kansas State came down to visit us in Owen Stadium -- that's a team that really has a lot of heart! -- and during a halftime performance a band member performed in the wrong direction during a precision drill.

"Oops!" said the K-State announcer. "Oh, well you can't win all the time."

Students To Attend Theatre Conference

Approximately twenty students, faculty members and Canyon residents will attend Southwest Theater Conference at Midland today (Thursday) through Saturday, according to Erin Wertenberger, Buffalo Masquers sponsor.

Featured speaker for the conference will be Douglas Campbell, director of the renowned Tyrone Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis.

Also included among main speakers is Pat Hingle, native Texan who has played title role in "J. B." and leading roles in such dramas as "Glass Menagerie" and "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," as well as appearing in motion picture and television productions.

Conference will include representatives of high school, community and children's theatres and college and university drama groups. It covers an area of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico. Buffalo Masquers is the WT dramatics organization, and Alpha Psi Omega is honorary dramatics fraternity.

Added features of the meeting will be a production of "Noah" by Texas Tech and a staged reading of an original play, "Lady in the Shade," by Bernard Sabath.

Students attending the Midland session will be Wes Schultz, White Deer sophomore; Lil Cowart, Canyon freshman; Bob King, Samnorwood senior; Karen Howard, Amarillo senior; Kathy Wylie, Dallas senior; and Martin McDonald, Brownfield senior.

Other students attending will be Neva Chowning, Amarillo sophomore; Don McPherson, Plainview graduate; Ben Harding, Dallas freshman; and Dwayne Smith, Pampa senior.

Accompanying the group will be sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore and Erin Wertenberger; Dr. and Mrs. Crannell Tolliver, Mrs. Rosa Cowart, Mrs. Virginia Raillard and Mrs. Edith Eckhardt are also expected to attend the conference.

Opera Workshop Opens With Soap Opera Spoof

Satire, humor and a touch of tragedy will be offered November 4-5 in five opera workshop productions.

A musical satire on television soap operas will be presented in its entirety in the Branding Iron Theatre presentation, which will also include selections of ensemble music from popular operas, sung in English.

The "cartoon in music" deals with a half-hour daytime hospital drama named "Gallantry," also the title of this modern opera by Douglas Moore.

Love duets spring forth when an appendectomy brings together a married doctor, played by Jearl Nichols of Canyon; the beautiful nurse he is pursuing, Jo Ella Cansler of Hereford; and her true love, Jerry Curry of Levelland. The soap opera is interspersed with commercials for Lochinvar Soap and Billy Boy Wax, delivered by Nancy Davis of Canyon.

The spoof on television will be followed by scenes giving high points in four well-known operas. Each will be preceded by a narrative, locating audience in place and time and describing context.

Debators Qualify

Speech students of West Texas State University placed eleventh of thirty-one colleges and universities in the Texas Tech Fall Forensic Festival last weekend.

Nine debators qualified for the Texas Christian University Invitational Debate Tournament, which will be held in Fort Worth next Friday and Saturday.

According to Gene Lewis, forensics director, each individual speech contestant representing WT placed very high also in the Tech meet, with Linda Delano, Dalhart freshman, receiving a superior in women's poetry division.

"You might say our debate team is like our football team -- rugged but bright," commented Lewis.

In the TCU debate tournament next weekend the school will meet approximately 35 other schools from 20 different states. Included will be U. S. Naval Academy, Air Force Academy, West Point, Dartmouth, and states from Florida to Arizona.

Debators who qualified for the tourney are Steven Busby and Bill Slagle, Amarillo freshmen; Robert Trapp, Perryton freshman; Randy Hollums, Floydada junior; Sandra Markley, Amarillo freshman; Sammie Monroe, Pampa freshman; Laura Edler, Dalhart freshman; Tanya Benton, Amarillo senior; and Miss Delano.

Lewis has purchased a new nine-passenger bus to transport students to and from such meets.

Accompanying Lewis and the debators to Fort Worth will be Robert Boyd, graduate assistant, and Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Pederson. They will serve as judges. Dr. John Kahler, associate professor of history at WT, served as WT delegate judge at Lubbock last week.

Dedication Sunday For New Church

New Calvary Baptist Church building will be dedicated at 11 a. m. Sunday, with Open House to follow, from noon until 5 p. m. Refreshments will be served during the open house.

Building is located at Eighth Street and Eighth Avenue and is made up of an education building, which houses 350 persons, and the sanctuary, which seats 400 persons as well as a 44-seat choir. The entire building is cooled by refrigerated air conditioning.

The church is designed with simplicity in mind, said Rev. Jack Boyett, pastor. There is no extra ornamentation, and design is based on utilitarian purposes, for accommodation of the maximum number of people.

"We began planning to remodel last year," said Rev. Boyett, "and then it all began to overflow, so we decided to expand. But the way it turned out, the best decision was to build a new building."

Calvary Baptist Church has increased by more than 100 members since last fall. "But we've arranged the new building so we can easily take care of the increase and more," added the pastor, "to accommodate the growing situation in Canyon."

Plans started to crystallize last April, when R. D. Baker gave $3,000 toward the purchase of property for the new church building. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held July 4.

Architectural planning was done by Norris Root of RAR Homes, which built the church; D. C. Lindley, building committee chairman; and Rev. Boyett. "There were at least fifty different people involved actively in the planning and construction of the church," said the pastor, "but probably the three primary leaders were Mr. Lindley; Leroy Miller, chairman of the seven-man planning and survey committee; and Russell Thompson, who at the time we began was chairman of deacons, and is still chairman of trustees and the church treasurer."

Calvary Baptist Church was organized July 6, 1952, with 75 charter members. Membership has risen to approximately 400 persons.

Cameron Blasts Stompers

After leading by a 14-6 count at halftime, Cameron Junior College exploded in the final half to blast the West Texas State University Stompers 48-6 last Saturday.

The WTSU frosh now have lost two games without a win and will be going for their first victory when they battle the University of New Mexico freshmen Nov. 13.

In the game last Saturday, Cameron JC scored first in the second quarter when Don Burt scampered six yards for a tally. Gil Cloud kicked the conversion through the uprights, giving the Oklahoma team a 7-0 lead.

Curley Watters of the Stompers took a pass from quarterback Roy Winters for 68 yards and a touchdown in the second quarter. The conversion failed and the Stompers had to settle for a one point deficit. Speedy Ron Gardin of Cameron JC then returned a punt 71 yards just before halftime to increase its lead to 14-6 at the intermission point.

Cameron made the game a romp when they scored 13 points in the third quarter and 21 in the last stanza. The initial second half score came on a 74 yard drive by the Aggies, climaxed on a 26-yard gallop by Henry Bauch. The conversion kick was no good but the Aggies were soon to get more points.

A fumble by the Stompers gave Cameron JC the ball at the WTSU 47. Cameron moved quickly for another score when Roy Wallace fired into the end zone from the Stomper five. Other Cameron touchdowns came on a pair of one-yard dives and a 16-yard jaunt by Ken Redding.

Winters of Rankin, Texas, fired for 151 yards passing on 10 completions in 20 tosses.

The Stompers totaled 171 yards passing and 53 on the ground, while the opposition marked up 363 yards rushing. Cameron added 57 yards in the air for a total net offense of 420 yards. WTSU got 13 first downs to 20 for the Cameron team.

The Stompers lost their first game of the season to the Air Force Junior Varsity 18-6 several weeks ago.

Civil War History Is Brought Back To Life

BY LINDA LOVE
A face near Lincoln in the famous tintype of his Gettysburg Address; the finely written lines of a Civil War discharge...

In these may be traced a faint trail which leads from a Hessian company in the Yorktown surrender to the last Swedish war, Sherman's march to the sea and the building of rail and cattle empires.

"Our family have always been mercenary soldiers," explained Don York as he gazed down at the yellowed paper presented his grandfather in 1865.

"All the men in the family have been soldiers of fortune for as long as I know, although our history has been handed down by word of mouth alone," continued the director of La Casa Canyon Convalescent Home.

York smiled. "When my grandfather was fifteen, his father brought him and his six brothers to America to fight in the Civil War. They landed first in the South, probably Atlanta, because the South was paying more; but when the old Dutchman found they were paying only in 'shin plasters', or paper money, he decided that was no substitute for something he could bite to prove its worth."

"So he got back on the British vessel, which was also a blockade runner, and they went up to a Northern port. They traveled to Pennsylvania, where there were many other Dutch people." At this time "conscripted soldiers" were earning $300 for taking the places of draft dodgers, and the father of William H. Freese soon sold his seven sons for a total of $2100, with which he bought a farm in a community outside Pittsburgh. He received $300 per month for each son during the war, also.

York's grandfather, second youngest of the boys, began his military career with a Pennsylvania company near home. He was one of the Honor Guard at Lincoln's Gettysburg appearance and is the second soldier seen in front of the speaker's platform in the well-known picture of the event.

On February 17, 1865, the company was detached and transferred to a private Union company under Captain E. French. During the ensuing period the troops participated in Sherman's march to the sea.

"I remember my grandfather telling me many times about when he was mustered out, in Nashville," said York. The date on the discharge read September, 1865.

"They were on the city square to receive their final payment and back pay, and he got seven dollars as terminal pay. This was all the cash he ever received for his participation in the war, and it was the only American money he had at all."

"As the troops were about to be dismissed, the top sergeant turned to the captain, who was evidently not well liked, and asked how they were to get home. 'How did you get here?' asked the captain. 'We walked sir,' came the reply."

"Then I suggest you start walking," the captain responded. So my grandfather walked back to Pennsylvania."

All seven sons lived through the war, although two had been wounded. "Once they were home their father wanted to take them back to Europe to fight over there, but by this time they were of age, and they'd had their fill of all that, so they scattered, for good."

York's grandfather began walking again, this time to the "Black Forest" of Michigan, where he took a soldier's claim in the timber country and began farming.

In the meantime, somewhere between Pennsylvania and the North Woods of Michigan, Freese met and married York's grandmother.

"I've never really known anything about how they met or anything, except that she was English and had lived in Chicago; in fact, she lived through the Chicago fire."

York's mother was born in a log cabin in the North Woods and, when she was thirteen or fourteen, the family moved to Chicago for a time, where Freese worked for the Pullman Company.

"He was a fine craftsman, especially in wood," commented York. "I suppose he may have picked that up in Europe. But they didn't stay long in Chicago. They headed on out to Nebraska, where the big railroads were being built, and he was to work for Burlington. But in very short time he went into farming at Nebraska City."

York's grandfather was overseer of the cattle and horse breeding of Burlington farm, which adjoined the land of J. Sterling Morton. Blooded stock farms were very successful at the time, for the stock could be sold in the developing West as brood stock.

Freese led trail drives into the Northwest and, later, transported stock in by rail. During one such drive or movement, he came upon his brother Harry, who had settled in Laramie, Wyoming.

"Harry is the only brother whose name I recall hearing," said York; "and I remember the name of one sister of my grandfather's, Matilda. There were twenty-one children in the family -- the seven boys, and all the rest, girls."

York's grandfather lived until his early seventies and was active his entire lifetime.

"He remembered everything very clearly and plainly," recalled York, "but he was a quite reticent man. It was hard to get him to talk about the things he did, but once we boys got him started, he seemed to enjoy talking and would almost re-live all the events."

The Freese family was originally from Hessian country, where the only profession was soldiering. According to the word-of-mouth history of the family, York's grandfather's grandfather was a Hessian soldier with the British in the American Revolution and was present at the Yorktown surrender. Freese's father fought in various nations, including for the Tsar of Russia, in a North African war and in the Swedish-Norwegian Wars, which was Sweden's last military action.

"I remember that we never had blankets when I was a boy in Nebraska," commented York. "My grandfather had buffalo robes he'd shot and cured, and when a daughter married she was given buffalo robes, along with her dowry or whatever. They had the warmth of four blankets and were a heck of a lot lighter!"

The Union discharge is the only written clue to many known and unknown pieces in the fragmentary history of the family of adventurers.

"I don't actually know if the discharge itself has any historical value," added York, picking up the framed paper. "But I've been through a great many museums, and I've never found one like it."

"Sometimes, however, I think I may have given too much attention to that piece of paper and not enough to this frame it's in."

The frame which contains the discharge is, in York's description, a crudely-made wooden frame with an unusual inlay of some type. "As far as I'm concerned, it's just a piece of junk," he said, "and if anything happened I'd probably throw it out."

"But a lot of women who come into the office notice it, and one lady offered me quite a large sum for it. When I asked her why she'd want such a crude piece of junk, she said if I didn't know what I had she wasn't going to tell me. So I still don't know what the thing is or if it's worth anything at all."

Just another unexplained bit of family history. The discharge has been in the frame as long as York can remember, and it hung for years in his grandfather's bedroom.

"But my story isn't actually so unique," stressed York. "Because it is strange to us today and somewhat far away, it seems extremely unusual or romantic. This is repeated in many, many families; the only difference is in taking an interest in it and finding out about these things."

It is -- only -- personal interest and asking questions of oldtimers by small boys which breathes life into an old piece of paper, puts names to faces in a crowd from out of history and brings to today's experience the meaning of a simple military discharge of long ago.

Hereford Tramples Canyon Eagles 22-0

Hereford's Whitefaces stopped the Canyon Eagles cold Friday night before a homecoming crowd as they romped to a 22-0 shutout over the visitors.

It was the first conference tilt for both teams and a dark beginning of district play for the Eagle charges of Coach Jim Greenwood.

In spite of flickers of promise from both offense and defense, the Eagles just couldn't make it pay off where it counts in the record books -- on the score board.

Wayne Brewer had a great night, netting 93 yards rushing. Tom Lair's punting was good and Art McAnarney won praise from Hereford Coach Jack Meredith for outstanding work on the defense.

The Eagles fought valiantly and even shone on defense in the second quarter holding the powerful herd scoreless in that period.

Even then, the statistics at the end of the ball game were decisive. Canyon made 11 first downs as compared to 23 for Hereford. The Eagles had 175 yards gained in total offense as compared to 344 by Hereford.

The Eagles took the opening kick off but four plays later were forced to kick.

In smashing runs by Gene Drummond the Whitefaces drove the ball to the six. Steve Hodges went over from there for the score.

Hereford's extra point try was good and the score was 7-0

Homemakers Hear Lindsey

"RAMPS" Program Preserves RC History

Three historical markers and four medallion-historical plates have been received by or placed on order for Randall County during the past year.

This is the first part of the five-year "Ramps" program of Randall County Historical Society, in coordination with the state-wide campaign of the same name.

"Ramps" stands for recordation, appreciation, marking, preservation, surveying, according to county chairman Mrs. T. B. McCarter.

Purpose of the program is to attract and interest tourists, as well as to "dig into our historic past for the sources of our heritage and record them for future writers and historians," she explained.

Each county in the state is participating in the program, whose goal is the erecting of 5,000 Historical Markers in Texas by 1970.

County Committee sends to the Texas Historical Foundation the history and tentative inscription for each marker. Four historians research the project separately to ensure accuracy.

"This may take a week or two, or even a year or more," said Mrs. McCarter. "Then collectively the four decide on the final inscription to be placed on the marker. After the order is placed, it takes 90 days to process the marker for delivery."

All state assignments and requests have been met, reports the county chairman, and rein favor of the host team. Even in their best quarter of the game, tough luck hounded the Eagles. A 30-yard pass from Tom Lair to Sherman Smith was nullified by a clipping penalty. Had the play stood it would have put the Eagles well within enemy territory.

However, the Eagle defense held and the score was still 7-0 at half time.

Hereford scored again in the third period. The herd got the ball on the 35 after a punt and moved it on a sustained drive that saw power exerted both on the ground and in the air.

Roger Owens was an outstanding pass receiver on this series of downs taking passes from the hand of Steve Hodges. This was a key factor in the

Capers Set Elections

Canyon Capers, local square dance club, will elect officers at a meeting Monday evening in the Junior Livestock Building.

Nominated for the office of president at a recent meeting were Ervin and Dorothy Davis, and Clyde and June Hancock.

R. and Clara Stork or Bill and Shirley Clifford as vice presidents; Gordon and Lida Foster or Truman and Ethel Freeman as secretary-treasurer; Ray and Sue Griffin or Bill and Ozzell Dugan as reporter; Roger and Phyllis Dugan or Ray and Dolores Reynolds as social chairmen; and Lewis and Margaret Tueck or Roy and Sue Reynolds as PSDA Representatives.

At the October 18 meeting, Knox Day and Erwin Davis did the calling. During the business session square dance lessons were postponed until January.

ball game. Mike Davis finally went over from the five and then the kick for extra point was good bringing the score to 14-0 in favor of Hereford.

Final Whiteface score came in the fourth period on another long sustained drive. Again Owens was in there taking short passes from Hodges. Drummond went over from the 1 and then the Whitefaces converted for two points bringing the score to 22-0 in favor of the Whitefaces. This ended scoring in the gall game.

The Eagles meet unbeaten Dumas in a homecoming clash here at 7:30 p.m. Friday night. The game will be played in Buffalo Bowl unless there is rain in which event the match may be played on the practice field behind Canyon High School.

Dumas is the top-rated team in the state and sport a 6-0 record for the season. The mighty Demons trounced Muleshoe 28 to 7 after trailing the Mules 7-0 at the half last Friday night.

The Demon's record is impressive, possibly even appalling. Dumas this year has beaten Capitol Hill, Lawton, Borger, Monahans, Palo Duro of Amarillo and Muleshoe.

Tulia, ranked number 8 in the state, fell before Perryton 15-13 last Friday night. Tulia has a 5-1 record, Muleshoe 5-2, Perryton 4-2 and Canyon now has a 3-3 record for the season.

Folk-Jazz Caravan To Entertain Here

An unexpected discovery of a new and happy event will be made by Canyon residents and WT students November 20 when the Serendipity Singers burst onstage in the Field House to open the Ford Caravan of Music.

The seven - member folk group, which takes its name from the Greek word meaning such a discovery, will headline Ford's Folk and Jazz Wing Ding, which includes jazz pianist Earl "Fatha" Hines and English comedy team Tony Hendra and Nic Ullett.

Two University of Texas graduates are among the Serendipities, who were founded at the University of Colorado and became popular through their brand of folk music styled with jazz arrangements and instrumentation.

Pretty blonde Diane Decker of Dallas majored in music at Texas. An outgoing, impish comedienne, she formed a singing-comedy duo with fellow student Tommy Tiemann, who graduated with a degree in anthropology and a minor in music. The team performed in such clubs as the Exodus in Denver and Houston's Tidelands, as well as appearing on ABC-TV's "Hootenanny." Tiemann toured also with the University of Texas Madrigal Singers.

Hits such as "Don't Let the Rain Come Down," "Cloudy Summer Afternoon" and "Chilly Winds" have led the Singers to appearances on Jack Paar, Bell Telephone Hour, Ed Sullivan and other television shows.

Personal appearances include Steel Pier in Atlantic City, World's Fair, Canadian National Exhibition, and recent performances in Australia and Portugal.

The youthful vocal group was featured some months ago on the NBC-TV "Today" show, providing the entire two-hour program.

Each member of the large group performs capably also as a soloist. Such single spots and musical numbers are interspersed with a variety of unique comedy sketches, gags and dramatic blackouts. Emphasis is on humor throughout the act.

Repertoire includes numbers ranging from the dramatic "Sinner Man" to "Boots and Stetson" and on to novelty tunes by Shel Silverstein. The latter are included in the Serendipities' most recent album, known as the album with the longest title in the world.

Earl "Fatha" Hines will be featured with the New Earl Hines Trio. He is winner of the Down Beat Hall of Fame International Jazz Critics Poll and is noted for his unique manner of improvisation.

Hines' ability to surprise his audience extends from bossa nova numbers such as "Girl from Ipanema" to "Louise," from "Breezin'" Along with the Breeze" to "Frankie and Johnnie."

Tony Hendra and Nic Ullett are an English comedy team specializing in satire, which might include foreign air travel, Shakespeare or the Beatles. They provided the guest comedy act for one segment of the special summer television series presented in 1964 by the New Christy Minstrels, appearing with the group at the World's Fair. Credits include as well appearances on Jack Paar Show and the "Tonight" show.

Tickets for the event may be purchased in the Student Office of the SUB. Price is $1 for students with activity cards and $1.50 for adults and general admission.

Den 1, Pack 130 met Tuesday Six. . .

The formal opening will take place on a Sunday afternoon, added Mrs. Nester, for convenience of all scouts and guests.

Girl Scouts program was begun first in the fall of 1927 and in September, 1930, three patrols, each boasting six members, had been formed. These were the Hoot Owl, Bluebird and Elm patrols. In 1935 girls were attending summer camp programs at Camp Kiwanis, similar to those today.

Early meetings were conducted in the courthouse, a scout lodge and the high school gym, until the scout building was donated by West Texas State College in 1947. Funds for the land were raised by the girls through projects and donations of local businessmen.

Primary purpose of Girl Scouts is to prepare a girl to take care of herself in any given situation, offered Mrs. Nester. There are four distinct levels of scouting, with three of four troops under each level.

Brownies are made up of girls in second and third grades at school, or seven or eight years of age. Members are limited in activities and do not stay overnight during camping sessions.

Their primary work is studying the scouting program itself and learning about city, state and nation. Activities consist of simple crafts and trips about town to familiarize themselves with their environment.

Junior level includes fourth, fifth and sixth graders and places more emphasis on social activities such as swimming and folk dancing. Principal purpose here is to teach members to get along together. Strenuous traveling is still not encouraged at this level.

With Cadet scouting, in seventh, eighth and ninth grades, the girls become involved in more serious programs such as camping and various service projects. Good grooming is an example of other studies conducted by cadets. Last year service projects included distribution of circulars, cookie sales and putting up posters.

Senior scouts include girls in tenth through twelfth grades, and these help with younger troops and aid the scout leaders. Primary activity for seniors is Candy Stripes or acting as junior aids in hospitals, and this is "the most successful thing any of the troops do," according to Mrs. Nester. "All the girls are dying to do it."

In the two older levels the girls are encouraged to organize and plan their own programs and activities. Leaders act as advisors rather than actual leaders.

Principal summertime activity for the scouts is a five-day program of day camp. This includes an overnight stay for all troops but Brownies. Highlight of the school year is the Father-Daughter Banquet held near Valentine's Day.

Coordinators this year for the various levels of Girl Scouts are Mrs. Charles E. Wright, Brownies; Mrs. Troy Martin, Junior level; Mrs. R. B. Gist Jr., Cadet; Mrs. Alfred Daniel, Senior; and Mrs. C. W. Robinson, North Randall County.

with den mother, Darlene Finke. The boys made a chow box for use in the den and then worked on Bobcat requirements.

Charlie Fowlkes and Oliver Middleton, Borger, visited in the Bill Harp home Sunday, October 24, and played golf with a group of friends at Canyon City Club.

Girl Scout Troop 8 met Monday with Mrs. Patterson.

The girls cleaned their ceramics in preparation for ceramic painting and then went on a hike.

Present were Joneta McDaniels, Jo Toni Patterson, Debbie Prince, Debbie Fowler, Sara Taylor, Cindy Cox, Yvonda Robinson, Kay Smith and a new member, Elizabeth Tucker. Janet Robinson was a visitor.

Most Grain Still Damp

High moisture content of Randall County's grain sorghum crop is keeping combines at a slow pace.

A moisture content of 14% or below is considered to be best for rapid harvest. At this time the moisture content of the grain is above 15%.

Cool humid fall weather is the primary contributing factor to this condition. The mid-October rain added moisture to the grain which still remains.

Most fields are in good condition for harvest. Very little has fallen. A few rows are sampled each day now to test the grain. A few hours of hot weather, low humidity, and drying winds could set off the fall harvest in a big way.

Longhorn Stampede Dumps Mesa Verde

BY JON LOW
Longhorn Coach

Using a crushing defense, Canyon's Kids, Inc., Longhorns continued their winning ways by thundering past Amarillo Mesa Verde, 18-0.

Canyon completely outclassed the visitors by taking the ball away seven times on fumbles and once on an intercepted pass, while pushing across three touchdowns.

Slammin' Sammy Kerbel carried two yards for his team's first score. Running back Ricky Edmondson darted over right tackle and fled 35 yards to the end zone in the third quarter, and Kerbel returned in the final period to ram three yards for another TD, gaining the team scoring lead for the year as he did so.

Kerbel was a terror on defense as he made ten unassisted and three assisted tackles and pounced on a Mesa Verde fumble. The hardcharging forward wall of Edmondson, Mickey Comer, Kerbel, John Upshaw and John Hoover produced numerous fumbles, two of which were alertly wrapped up by linebacker Mark Vaughn.

Danny Davis, Comer, Chuck Wright and Dink Bryant also claimed loose footballs, and Minier split time at cornerback with Mike Cox but still logged six unassisted and one assisted tackle. On a punt return, the Mesa Verde carrier had slipped past every Longhorn except punter Minier and would have scored had he eluded Minier. Going beyond the call of duty, the Longhorn back hit the runner so ferociously that he not only stopped him but knocked him out, delaying the game until the player came to.

Mesa Verde was a game team and never gave up.

I was very proud of our defense, particularly in the rushing of our line. Except for one play, our punt coverage was very good. I was also well pleased with the offense; it is improving every week. Every one played a great game.

Final league game will be played at 2 p. m. Saturday with Forest Hill, in Forest Hill Park.

Players carrying out their assignments best were Kerbel at offensive center and defensive nose guard; Edmondson at running back and defensive end; and Shadix at quarterback as well as limited defensive duty.

The Guts Award is shared this week by Kerbel, who was in the backfield only four plays while scoring twice, for a tremendous all-round game, and Donnie Minier.

Minier split time at corner-

Bufs Meet Bengals At Memphis Saturday

Memphis State University goes for its third straight victory and the Bufs of West Texas State University try to get back in the win column, when the two major college independents meet in Memphis this Saturday at 8 p. m.

The Bufs were knocked from the unbeaten ranks by a great New Mexico State team in the homecoming battle in Buffalo Bowl last Saturday. Despite the 10-2 loss to the Aggies, the Herd still sports a 5-1 record, which is better than any pre-season experts thought the Bufs would have at this time in the season.

Memphis Memorial Stadium will be the scene of the clash between the two football giants who will be meeting for the third time on the gridiron. MSU has dominated the first two games of the series and last year murdered the Bufs before a homecoming crowd in Buffalo Bowl by a 41-0 score. Great Tiger quarterback Billie Fletcher had a picnic against the Herd in that game of 1964. Fletcher rushed for 128 yards, completed six of 13 passes for 108 yards, kicked for two field goals and added five extra points against WTSU.

Fletcher has been up to his old tricks again this season and had an even bigger night against Mississippi State two weeks ago, than he did against WTSU last season. In the Tigers upset of then 10th ranked Mississippi State, Fletcher did everything but referee. Named the back of the week by the Associated Press for his performance in the game, Fletcher fired three touchdown passes, ran for one himself, kicked two field goals and three conversion points.

The sensational signalcaller accounted for every Tiger point, as Memphis State beat Mississippi State 33-13. So far in the 1965 season, Fletcher has fired for 731 yards on 55 completions in 131 aerial attempts. On his favorite play, the sprint out pass play, Fletcher is tough to handle, because he can run if his receivers are covered. Fletcher has carried the pigskin 60 times for 355 yards and a 6.1 yard average.

Memphis State joyously opened the season in their all new 50,000 seat stadium but the Tigers fell to defeat, as the University of Mississippi whipped MSU 34-14. In their second game, the Tigers came close to victory before losing to Southern Mississippi 21-16. Tulsa nosed out a wild offensive victory three weeks ago over the Tigers 32-28. Since that loss to the Hurricanes, the Tigers haven't lost a battle.

McNeese State found the Bengals rough to handle last Saturday and the boys from Memphis rolled passed the McNeese team 28-0.

A big part in the Memphis State revival in the Tigers' last two games has been sophomore fullback Herb Covington. In the McNeese game, Covington rammed 145 yards in 21 excursions with the football. The 6-0, 210-pound backfield man romped 67 yards for a tally during the victory over McNeese.

Fletcher has a favorite receiver in split end Bob Sherlag, a 6-1, 190-pound senior, who has taken 20 passes for 332 yards and four touchdowns.

Sherlag set a new receiving record at Memphis State with his 20 catches for the season. Sophomore wingback Bob Baxter is another of the Tigers very capable pass receivers and last Saturday caught seven passes against McNeese for 64 yards. Otis Cordill, the Tigers great punter, is out with an injury and his kicking duties will be taken over by Baxter. Baxter has averaged around 37 yards a kick in two games of punting in place of Cordill.

MSU, as usual, has a powerful offensive line with good speed and tremendous size. Sherlag is the only senior on the line, as the other six positions are held down by four sophomores and two juniors. The Memphis school has a very strong "red shirt" program which accounts for their unusual number of sophomores starting on the first team offense.

Coach Billy "Spook" Murphy is in his eighth season at Memphis State and his record shows a 50-21-1 slate. Murphy always has had a big defensive line on his Tiger teams and this year is no exception. The Tigers defensive line averages 223 pounds per man and the MSU 5-4 defense allowed McNeese State only 48 yards rushing in the 28-0 breeze by the Tigers last Saturday.

Memphis State has given up 158 yards a game to the rush and 192.2 yards of passing offense. The Tiger pass defense has snatched 12 enemy passes and the ground game defense has caused six opposition fumbles.

Coach Clarence Dierking of the Bufs, who scouted MSU last Saturday, figures the Tigers to be especially tough. "Memphis State has the best defensive line of any teams we have faced in 1965. The Tigers' line has tremendous size and moves very well, considering their stature", said the Coach.

Coach Dierking added that the offensive line of Memphis State does a very fine job of blocking with power to open up holes in the opposition's defensive wall. The big line of the Tigers should furnish a big challenge for the Herd's popular "Unfriendly Society."

The Bengals have outscored their opponents 119 to 100 points and Fletcher has scored 45 of the 119. Right tackle Chuck Pettit and left guard Lewis Jones are the Tigers biggest offensive linemen. Both 245-pound giants are sophomores and seem to be improving as the season progresses.

MSU has lost defensive tackle Harry Day and linebacker Don McClard for the upcoming battle with WTSU. Day is out for the season after being counted on heavily to bolster the Tiger defensive wall. Day made 53 tackles last season.

A big defensive man for the Tigers is linebacker Larry Williams, who holds down the "monster" linebacking position. Huge guards Melillo Sullivan, 6-1, 245, and Larry Duck, 6-0, 245, may be more than the Bufs offensive line can handle.

The battle in Memphis this Saturday shapes up as a big game for the Bufs. Though they lost their first game of the season to New Mexico State last Saturday, enthusiasm will go sky high if the Herd can upset the mighty Tigers. Memphis State is probably the toughest team on the 1965 WTSU schedule and a victory over the big Bengals could put the Bufs back in post season bowl game contention.

The WTSU offense which sputtered under a tremendous Aggie rush last Saturday must come to life this week, if the Bufs are to bring back a victory.

Spencer "Hank" Washington of the Herd experienced an off day last week but managed to increase his season passing total to 874 yards. Washington has a percentage of .500 in passing accuracy, as he has hit on 78 of 156 tosses. Ted Wheeler tied the school record for pass receiving at 23 in the NMSU game and needs only one to set a new school pass catching record. Bill Cross formerly held the record of 23, set in 1951.

NMSU totaled 119 yards of rushing against the "Unfriendly Society" last week which increased the average number of rushing yardage given up, to 73.2 yards a game.

A challenge "to top all challenges" faces the Herd with their invasion of the Memphis Memorial Stadium. The Bufs must shake off the effects of their first loss and face a huge and explosive team from Memphis State.

KGNC radio of Amarillo, located at 7.10 on the AM dial, will carry the battle beginning at 8 p. m. CST.

COOK OF THE WEEK Shares Easy Fixin's

BY LORENA MILLER
Mrs. Ray Griffin, mother of five, shares recipes for Barbecued Chicken and Easy Fruit Cake with our readers this week.

The former Miss Sue Hardaway was raised in the Canyon area and graduated from Canyon High School. Shortly after her graduation the Hardaway family moved to Littlefield where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hardaway, now reside.

Mrs. Griffin has two brothers, Bob Hardaway of Muleshoe and Henry Hardaway of Brownfield.

On October 2, 1952, Mrs. Griffin and her husband, Ray, were married in Clovis, New Mexico. During their early years of marriage he served with the Army in Korea just before the conflict was over.

"Ray didn't see our oldest son until he was 15 months old," related Mrs. Griffin.

Griffin spent two years with the Army before returning to Canyon where he and his twin brother, Rex, operate Griffin's Truck Stop.

He is the son of Mrs. Olive Griffin of Canyon and the late Bill Griffin, also of Canyon. Others in the family include twin brother, Rex; twin sisters, Mrs. Ralph White of Canyon and Mrs. Johnny Welch of Pampa; and Wayne Griffin of El Paso.

"We like our semi-country home," said Mrs. Griffin. "The private and spacious area allows us the chance to have pets for the children, including a German Shepherd dog, a cat and two rabbits."

Children of the couple include Marvin, 12, who is in the fifth grade; Lee, 10, a fourth grade pupil; Renita, 8, a third grader; and first grade student Barbara, 6. Laura, 4, is still waiting to start school.

"When I have spare time, I like to sew for the family," commented Mrs. Griffin. "But I never did learn to crochet or do fancy work like my mother did."

The Griffins are members of the First Baptist Church of Canyon and are active members of the Canyon Capers, square dance club.

"When I cook I usually have to double the recipe. If I use one," explained Mrs. Griffin. "Lots of times I just toss together a meal and keep adding until it tastes right."

"We like the Barbecued Chicken recipe and it is an easy top-of-the-stove dish to prepare," related Mrs. Griffin. Her recipe follows:

BARBECUED CHICKEN
1 chicken, boiled,
1 med. onion, chopped
3 Tbsp. salad oil
1 tsp. dry mustard
salt and pepper
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup vinegar

1 Tbsp. worcestershire sauce
Boil chicken beforehand.
Prepare sauce by browning onion in salad oil and blending together catsup, mustard, water, vinegar and spices.

Pour sauce over boiled chicken parts and simmer on top of stove for about 45 minutes until well done.

"For a fruitcake that is not real sweet and is easy to make we like the one prepared with a date bar mix," added Mrs. Griffin.

FRUIT CAKE
1 pkg. date bar mix
2/3 cup hot water
3 eggs
1/4 cup flour
3/4 tsp. baking powder
2 Tbsp. light molasses
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. allspice
1 cup nuts, chopped
1 cup candied fruit, chopped
1 cup raisins.

Blend all ingredients and heat oven to 325 degrees. Grease and flour pan. Use either a 9 x 5 x 3 or an 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 3/4 pan to bake cake.

In 9 x 5 x 3 pan bake for 1 hour and 20 minutes. For other pan bake an hour and 45 minutes, or until a toothpick will come out clean.

Cool. Wrap in wrapping paper and refrigerate. For glaze warm 1/4 cup of apple or currant jelly in saucepan and pour over fruit cake.

Vega Rips Cowpokes

Happy High School went down to its second straight district defeat when the Vega Longhorns clobbered the Cowpokes 41-0 before a homecoming crowd in Happy last Friday.

The huge wall of the Longhorns proved too much for the Cowpokes, as the Vega team grabbed an early lead and continued to add to it throughout the battle. Hard running Johnny Haliburton scored the first Vega tally in the first quarter on a 20 yard scamper around right end. Lee Cramer added the conversion on a kick which split the uprights. Cramer kicked five of six conversion attempts on target for the night.

Scores in the second quarter came on a 20 yard run by Vince Barclay, and a 60 yard dash by Kenny Purcell. Both teams played scoreless ball in the third stanza but the Longhorns had their biggest scoring spurge in the final quarter when they totaled 20 points.

Two explosive plays in the quarter highlighted the action. Purcell broke loose on an 88 yard gallop to paydirt early in the last quarter and Lester Kirkland closed out the Vega scoring on an 85 yard run. The other tally of the quarter came when Barclay moved into the end zone on a 38-yard end sweep.

Happy now holds a 1-2 district record and a 4-3 season mark. The Cowpokes battle Texline at 7:30 p. m. in Texline tomorrow. Halfback Wicky Culp, who was injured in last week's Bovina battle, will be out at least another week or more.

Janie McManigal was crowned as homecoming queen, but that was the only bright spot of the night for the Cowpokes.

Voters Guide Is Available

A Voter's Guide for fall, 1965, second Constitutional Amendments Election is being distributed in Canyon by Amarillo League of Women Voters.

Ten amendments are on the November 2 ballot for decision by the voters. The Guide contains a full explanation of the effects of the amendments if adopted and gives arguments for and against the proposals.

The explanatory sheet is non-partisan, in keeping with the League's purpose of promoting greater understanding of governmental issues.

"The appallingly low voter turnout for the September 7 amendment election calls for redoubled efforts on the part of the League to encourage citizen participation in the affairs of state government," said Mrs. Maurice H. Brown, state president of the League.

"All who believe in government by the people should share our grave concern that we are in danger of having government by default when so few voters make their wishes known at the polls," she continued. "Only a handful of Texas voters made the decision on the September 7 issue."

Copies of the Guide are available in Canyon at First National Bank, Randall County Clerk's office, KCAN and The Canyon News.

Junior Eagles Win Village Game, 18-8

Canyon Junior Eagles mixed spirit with some wide-open running and passing Saturday to defeat Wolfin Village, 18-8. Scott Keeling was quarterback. Playing on home ground, the Canyon Kids, Inc., minor league team held their opponents well following a first series drive by the Village team to the Eagles ten-yard line. Eagle backs Bill Moore and Brad Winn broke open the game in their first possession of the ball with a 90-yard pass play from Moore to Winn for first touchdown of the morning. Extra points failed, and the Canyon squad was left behind, 8-6, when the visitors romped forty yards through the Eagle center line to score, then added two extra points in the second quarter. Moore took the second-half opening kickoff, running it back approximately 35 yards, only to be stopped by the last man between him and the Village goal. Later in the third quarter, Ed Lair scampered fifty yards on a reverse around end to make the score 12-8. Final points came in last series of downs of fourth quarter, when Winn ran a reverse around right end from the one-yard line to end the game 18-8. "They played a real good game," commented coach C.E. Winn, "and they showed more spirit. Especially in the second half, they seemed to hit harder, and the other team made very few first downs." There were no fumbles nor interceptions charged against

Opportunity Plan, Inc., Copied In State Plan

BY LINDA LOVE

"This is our program -- mine and the others."

Such a response is typical of West Texas State University students who are a part of Opportunity Plan, Inc., a private corporation planned for thrifty, modest youth who have neither the finances to put themselves through school nor the brilliance to win scholarships.

It is "their plan," fashioned and directed by executive vice-president Milton "Buff" Morris, which has been the inspiration of a constitutional amendment to be voted on Tuesday by citizens of Texas.

"I am responsible for the money owed," continued the biology major, a pre-dental student. "This is the only way you can go to college if you can't afford it; it teaches you how to handle money, and you earn your way through."

Morris' plan is built upon such responsibility and the pride of students in earning their own way. Files of the 1546 persons who have participated in the ten-year-old program bulge with letters expressing concern for repayment of debts and gratitude for the director's faith in them.

Part of the job is the encouragement, contends Morris. "It's all done on the basis of their own integrity and honesty. I have to have faith in the kids I put on the program. I'm taking a mortgage on them -- on their ambition, future, honor, ability and citizenship."

The proposed "Texas Opportunity Plan" does not ignore this essential point. If passed it will be the first time any type of state education aid has ever been payable directly to the students, not to the institutions.

"Yes, we're more or less on our own," agreed Janora Shelton, sophomore who works in the Student Financial Aids office, of which Morris is director.

"And although we certainly don't do without anything, we learn to be thrifty and fairly modest in our spending. I think we're always conscious of what we owe, but I don't think of the responsibility as a problem; I think of what I'll get. I know I'll be prouder of my degree once I get it."

Like many Opportunity Plan students, Miss Shelton is planning to graduate within three years, aided by summer school sessions. Some manage to pay off what they have borrowed by working during the summer and graduate without owning any money.

"It's a constant job of teaching simple economy and appreciation," explained Morris. "The first thing you need to do is to cut spending down."

Miss Shelton explained the student's part in the program. "First we set up a budget for the semester. We keep a record book of everything we spend, and for what, and this corresponds to a ledger sheet that's kept in the office. When we turn in a check or draw out some money, this is recorded in both records."

Budgets seem to average approximately $600 per semester.

"We turn in our salary checks, and it's deducted from what we owe, or if we have a credit balance, it's added to that. And when we want some money, it's handled in the same way. Each check expenditure is broken down, and every once in a while we bring in our book to check it with the ledger sheet. At the end of the semester we fill out a report."

If a student receives money from home, there is also a place to list that in the record book, so the student may keep track of how much the family is helping.

Budget divisions include tuition and fees; room and board; clothing; operating (laundry, beauty parlor or barber shop, transportation, etc., usually $50-$60); miscellaneous (gifts and such); books and supplies; supplementary food; and savings.

The latter division includes life insurance, hospitalization, and the program's credit union. All these are arranged especially through the Opportunity Plan.

Life insurance covers the note signed with the corporation as well as providing additional coverage for beneficiaries. "We get it at a real low rate," said Miss Shelton, and we continue it after graduation. As long as we are a part of the Plan, some insure their lives and kids, too, when they marry."

Hospitalization is a rates, at relatively inexpensive company. Also, with a reliable auto, premiums are paid automatically by the office. The student account, space boys and girls the added cost. This coverage may also be continued after school.

Morris keeps close watch on his students' grades, advising them carefully as to courses and study loads, and comparing ACT test scores with progress in various courses to better guide the youths.

But he had mentioned something other than budgeting and studies, and that was appreciation. This takes form in the Perpetual Fund, to which 95 per cent of the Plan participants contribute voluntarily.

"We don't have to contribute unless we want to," explained Miss Shelton, "but those who do give at least $30 a year. You see, we don't pay any interest at all on the money we use, so this is our way of helping to build the program for someone else."

"The money contributed to the fund is placed in a savings account and drawn on in ten years, when it's put back into the Opportunity Plan."

At the end of the ten years, measured from a student's first involvement in the program, the "anniversary" class of young stockholders meet to elect a member to the Board of Directors, thereby extending their personal interest and influence in the program.

There are those, of course, who do not learn the lessons of economy and appreciation, and these do become delinquent. Morris deals with such students and graduates ad directly as in all things. He published an annual report, sent to all Opportunity Plan contributors and including a list of those delinquent in payment.

"There are only two ways to keep from paying," said Morris firmly: "a girl can marry and her husband can sign the note, or a boy can get in the gutter and stay there."

"Some fellows don't believe they have the responsibility of their wife's note. She may be

Son's Birth Announced

Born at Neblett Hospital and Clinic in Canyon, the baby weighed 5 pounds 11 ounces on arrival.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Metcalf of Panhandle. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

1925 Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. Herschell Coffee entertained members of the 1925 Bridge Club Wednesday of last week.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served to those attending including Miss Virginia Allen, Mrs. Rose Davis, Mrs. James Cole, Mrs. T. V. Crouse, Mrs. J. M. Cougherty, Mrs. L. L. Jones, Mrs. Iverson Leake, Mrs. Milton Morris, Mrs. Ray McReynolds, Mrs. Hud Prichard, Mrs. John A. Williams and Jo Black, a guest.

using her degree to help support them, but he may refuse to pay. In any case, if a kid has any decency, boy or girl, he'll pay, and if he doesn't, you can be sure I'm going to embarrass him."

Morris picked up a nearby sheet of paper and indicated the $180,213 shown as invested in persons now out of school. "Does that figure scare you?" he asked. "Well, these kids pay you."

Opportunity Plan began in a small ledger book with a $500 budget. August 31, 1965, budget sheet shows a total capital of $320,576.77. All the money is from private sources. So far the program has provided $1,125,581 to Texas students.

Morris gestured toward the state proposal. "If we can't make this work, if we're not big enough in Texas... We can make this work! They've given it the authority, the elastic framework that's necessary."

"This way the state can use the access it has to low-interest loans to help kids all over."

The state proposal follows closely the WT program. In August, 1964, a report was released by a committee appointed to study higher education in Texas. The committee recommended a doubling of tuition.

This brought the introduction of the original bills last spring, bills which would have created state scholarship funds for top-ranking students. Following investigation of Morris' program the idea underwent many changes.

standard or academic performance be required for enrollment in the participating institution," read Morris from

WOWs Have Weight Loss

Win-Over-Weight Club met Monday evening with Mrs. Pete Black.

Seven members were present for a short business session. At the weigh-in was registered a loss of 2 1/4 pounds and a gain of 1/2.

The evening was concluded with games of rummy. Next meeting will be held with Carolyn Kite as hostess Monday evening at 7:30 p. m.

proposed Amendment Six of the coming election. "Isn't that a far cry from their 'top-ranking student' scholarships? This is a bill designed to be fair and adequate to all students, not just the brilliant or the poverty-stricken. And kids should receive some help as long as they take the ability God gave them and use it."

State program would operate through sale of bonds to private foundations, individuals, and corporations. It has been promoted by various legislators, particularly Sen. Walter Richter, Sen. Grady Hazlewood and Rep. George Hinson.

"Rep. J. M. (Red) Simpson did as much as anyone, but behind the scenes, to put this thing through," praised Morris. The Plan has received notice on its own, however.

"Last year one of our girls who's in California now went to a meeting where Ronald Reagan spoke, and he told them about the Opportunity Plan they have down in West Texas. She said he was very pleased when she spoke to him later and told him she'd been a part of it." The plan has attracted attention in stories by Associated Press and in "Stars and Stripes."

"But no matter what they do with this state program," said Morris proudly, "there will always be the little boys and girls who need our own program, and we'll be here at West Texas to help them."

"I've learned, step by step, as I've run this, from the students. This is our program."

Young Farmers Hear ASC Man

Donald Lloyd of the Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation service in Canyon was guest speaker for last Tuesday's meeting of the Young Farmers of Canyon.

Lloyd led the group in a discussion of the new farm program and introduced Harry Rutgers, of the Potter-Randall Soil Conservation District, who was a special guest.

Benny Abbott, president of the Young Farmers, was in charge of a business session with 12 members present. Plans were discussed for programs for the new year.

"Farm Safety" will be the program topic for the November meeting of the group.

STATEWIDE VERSION of his Opportunity Plan, Inc., is studied by Milton "Buff" Morris, director of Student Financial Aid at West Texas State University. The state constitutional amendment, to be voted on Tuesday, is patterned after Morris' plan, which for ten years has provided financing directly to boys and girls seeking higher education.
